Doctor R. E. Owen would not allow them to go home, but, instead, sent them to the old City Hall to stay in the isolation ward until they could be transferred to the boat. Left alone for a minute, the children departed from the building, hoarded a car and rode west.

The physicians called the police, and a search was begun. A patrolman was sent to the neighborhood of Newstead and Laclede avenues, where it was said the children's mother lived. It was later discovered that they had gone to No. 236 Clark avenue. Both were taken in charge, weeping, and were put on board the Kennedy.

Doctor Snodgras decided that hereafter no suspicious cases or any person from an infected point will be transferred at once to the Kennedy. The Whitpple children are, therefore, the first refugees forced to experience the city's hospitality.

Horace A. Bruns Jr. Charged ynching Is Expected if Posse of With Victimizing Holland Five Hundred Men Capture Jack Smith, Charged With As-House in New York-Said to saulting Young White Girl. Have Posed as Englishman.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Sept. 1.—Horace A. Bruns Jr., son of Horace A. Bruns, president of the Bruns Machine Company of St. Charles, Mo., was the name given by a young man arrested to-day as a hotel swindler, aithough he registered at the Holland House under the name "H. Algernon Brooks, London, England."

The young man was called before the detectives at police headquarters this morning to see if any of them could recognize him, but they were unable to do so, and he was put down as a novice at the game. game.

Bruns registered at the Holland House about a week ago, and ran up a bill of $286.55, most of which was for goods ordered sent C. O. D., and for which the hotel had paid.

HAD DECEPTIVE ACCENT.

HAD DECEPTIVE ACCENT.

His swell dress and droll English accent deceived the hotel clerk, and when he asked for the best single room in the house, with "hawth, too, please," there was no mistaking him to be an English gentleman, from the clerk's viewpoint. Shortly after his arrival parcels containing expensive underwear, shirts, neckties and miscellaneous articles began to arrive, all "C. O. D."

The detective of the Holland House remarked that it was a rather queer coincidence that the packages aiways reached the hotel during the absence of Mr. H. Algernon Brooks, and mentioned it to the hotel clerk, who, however, could not be undeceived.

"He's a gentleman of the first water," the clerk said.

"May be," the detective replied, "but I have my eye on him."

AND INDUSTRIAL SUCCESS."

While there is much in the report that is severely critical of the Exposition management, a great deal of commendation also is bestowed. Following the section dealing with the salvage question, the report says:

"It is pleasant to turn from disagreements to achievements. From the scientific, the artistic and the industrial points of view, the Exposition was a pronounced success. The munificent and unfalling support given the enterprise by the flowerment of the United States guaranteed that it would be a great exposition.

"Considering the primary appropriation of $5.696.69, the loan of $4.096.98, and the contributions by the direct appropriations and by indirect means, through the assignment of officers paid from other appropriations, together with the exhibits from districts, territories and dependences of the United States, and of the Government exhibit, the asgregate contributions, direct and indirect to the success of the fair, approximated $15.096.09 on the day the gates were opened to the public."

"It is undoubtedly true that their efforts in enlisting the sympathy and support of the women of the United States not only made possible an adequate presentation and exploitation of woman's work and woman's sphere, but also secured the attendance of thousands upon thousands of the best people of the land, who would otherwise have remained away."

The Government exhibit is eulogized in highest terms, and the report concludes with a glowing tribute to the people of St. Louis for the devotion and seal in furthering the great enterprise. his mind.

Bruns's father was informed of the arrest last night. The Brunses are one of the best families in St. Charles and are deeply hurt by the actions of the young man in New York. CONFERENCE MAY RESULT IN SPREAD OF PRINTERS' STRIKE

Chicago, Sept. I.—The spread of the job printers' strike to other cities is a possibility following the arrival of James Lynch of the International Typographical Union, in a conference here President Lynch will talk over the situation as it applies to Chicago and the whole country with John Harding and other Chicago leaders.

After the conference an order may be issued calling out printers in several large cities where the National Typothtae has shops. Fearing that some harm has befallen William P. Booge and his wife, Ella, who are touring the country in an automobile, their friends and relatives in San Francisco have offered a reward of field for information concerning them.

Chief Gillamy was notified last night to help in the search. He will endeavor to learn whether the missing automobilists have passed through St. Louis.

cities where the National Typothtae has shops.

This action is counseled by some in order to weaken the strength of the Chicago Typothetae. It is urged that with strikes going on in other cities the Chicago Typothetae will be unable to get men to come here to take positions.

The Typothetae convention will be held at Niagara Falsis next week. Some of the typographical officers believe they should try to weaken the employers' rosition by calling the men out before the masters gather at the convention and plan concerted action. KANSAS CITY SENDS RECRUITS.
